Biography of Sandor “Alex” Kvassay and History of the Sandor “Alex” Kvassay papers and collection of Aviation Stamps

Sandor “Alex” Kvassay came to the United States from Hungary in 1948, where he had finished studying law. He became a U.S. citizen through two years of service in the Army. He then went to Wichita for a job at Beech Aircraft before Lear Jet Corporation recruited him as vice president of international marketing. Alex Kvassay sold Beech and Learjet aircraft for 30 years, earning a reputation as the industry's premier international salesman of his day. Kvassay sold planes for Olive Ann Beech and Bill Lear to world leaders, business moguls and celebrities. He later became a partner with Duncan Aviation.

During his 30 years of selling corporate aircraft around the world, Alex Kvassay crossed the Atlantic Ocean nearly 500 times and the Pacific more than 80 times.

He retired in 1982 and continued to travel the world, including landing on the North and South poles. In early 2010, Murray Smith, owner/publisher/editor of Professional Pilot magazine, an old friend of Alex Kvassay asked Alex to write down his memories of more than 30 years of selling business aircraft internationally, so his collection of reflections could be enjoyed by Pro Pilot readers and his history of marketing private aircraft outside the United States could be preserved.

Since May 2010 he has authored more than 35 individual stories, which have run monthly in Professional Pilot, under the title of “Alex Remembers”. Some of those stories appear in this collection.

Kvassay had a 40 year friendship with Neil Armstrong. E-mails they had exchanged in the 2000s and clippings Kvassay had collected in regards to Armstrong's life are also found in this collection.

Collection Description

Scope

The Sandor “Alex” Kvassay papers and collection of Aviation Stamps (1870-2014; 12.40 cubic feet) document the history of aviation and flight through postage stamps, postmarks and envelopes collected from all over the world. The collection spans the 20th-century and the beginning of the 21st-century but includes examples of 19th century balloon airmail.

The stamps are housed in 67 albums and total near 68,000 stamps, envelopes, postmarks and postcards. The collection was assembled over a period of 20 years, with many of the stamps purchased as new issues. The stamps in the collection are all related to aviation; airplanes, history of flight and significant anniversaries, airships, Zeppelin mail, famous aviators and events in world history. Many of the stamps do not have dates.

There are many thousands of mostly unused stamps and souvenir sheets. In addition to the United States, there are 20th century stamps and covers from Germany, Greece, Switzerland, Italy and Colonies, Spain and Colonies, France and Colonies, Netherlands and Colonies, and Portugal and Colonies. In addition there are thousands of stamps from Africa, South and Central America, Latin America, Asia including China, Japan and Korea. Finally there are thousands of stamps from Great Britain and former British Colonies, including Australia, Canada and Provinces, Bahamas, Bermuda, Cyprus and many others. Other countries of the world are also well represented in the collection.

Along with the stamp collection, there is a copy of Kvassay’s autobiography, “Alex in Wonderland: A life of high adventure from war-torn Europe to the world of aviation.” The book focuses on 3 aspects of his life; his Hungarian background and coming to the United States, 30 years selling American-manufactured business aircraft to overseas markets and lastly, his journeys during retirement. Other writings included are his featured stories, “Alex Remembers” published in Professional Pilot.

Lastly, the papers contain a binder of clippings about Kvassay’s longtime friend, Neil Armstrong and correspondence exchanged between them via email in the early 2000s. The binder is restricted, due to third party privacy concerns.

The papers and stamp collection are organized into two series:

Arrangement

1. Aviation Stamps, circa 1870-2000s (12 cubic feet). The collection of worldwide stamps are housed in 67 albums and total near 68,000 stamps, envelopes, postmarks and postcards. There are many thousands of mostly unused stamps and souvenir sheets. The stamps in the collection are all related to aviation; airplanes, history of flight and significant anniversaries, airships, Zeppelin mail, famous aviators and events in world history. Some of the stamps feature, Ferdinand von Zeppelin, Amelia Earhart, the Wright Brothers, Charles De Gaulle, Charles Lindberg, Neil Armstrong and Apollo 11. Please refer to the finding aid for a detailed listing of countries of origination.

The stamps have been left in original order and in the original binders. Many of the stamps do not have dates.

2. Writings, Neil Armstrong Clippings & Correspondence, and Miscellaneous Items, 1995-2014 (0.4 cubic feet). This series consists of Sandor Kvassay's autobiography, "Alex in Wonderland: A life of high adventure from war-torn Europe to the world of aviation," along with stories written by him and featured in Professional Pilot. Another highlight of the series is a binder of clippings about Neil Armstrong, a longtime friend of Kvassay's. There are also e-mails from the early 2000s in the binder that were sent between the two friends. Miscellaneous items consist of collector calendars from Kansas Aviation Museum and an undated tape, titled, "Lear Jet Country."
