The Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra performed on over forty-five occasions between 1932 and 2002. During its rich history, Purdue Convocations has also offered students, faculty, and local residents an opportunity to see a number of overseas performers, including the Berlin Philharmonic, the Chinese Acrobats of Taiwan, Danzas Venezuela, the Hungarian Quartet, the Moscow Philharmonic Orchestra, the National Ballet of Canada, the National Chinese Opera Theatre, the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, Stars of Soviet and Eastern European Ballet, and the Warsaw Philharmonic. Notable lecturers have included Dean Acheson, George Ade, Clement Attlee, Jimmy Carter, Barry Goldwater, John F. Kennedy, and Alex Haley. Collection Description

Scope

The Purdue University Convocations Records (1892-2012, predominant 1903-2012; 29.55 cubic feet) documents the pre-history and history of Purdue Convocations. This collection offers researchers an excellent glimpse into the wide-variety of performances offered and showcased courtesy of Purdue Convocations. Types of materials include: budgets and other financial statements, committee meeting minutes, performance schedules, performer contracts, photographs, programs, etc. The Records are organized into six series:

Arrangement

Series 1. Administrative Records, 1948-2008 (3.1 cubic feet). Committee on Convocations and Public Lectures records (including budgets, correspondence, expense and suggestion lists, meeting minutes, and season schedules), 1948-1957; Budget statements and miscellaneous financial records (expenditure statements, vouchers, cost estimates and reports), 1954-1969; miscellaneous administrative records (meeting minutes, correspondence, etc.), 1959-1968; Victory Varieties Committee records (mostly correspondence and meeting minutes), 1951-1965, 1970; mock-up designs for the proposed Visual and Performing Arts Center, 1999; and commissioned music, circa 1980s-2000s.

Materials in the series are arranged by topic, then chronologically by material type.

Series 2. Performers and Performances, 1903-1979, predominant 1934-1940, 1957-1979 (8.72 cubic feet). Series largely consists of files kept on performers who appeared, or were scheduled to appear, at Purdue between 1947 and 1979. These files include agent press releases, contracts, correspondence, programs, and promotional photographs. The series also includes promotional photographs, circa 1970s; addresses and messages given at Purdue, 1903-1950 (see inventory for inclusive dates); performer and performances slides, circa 1972-1982; and three reel-to-reel tapes of the "Diefenbacker Lecture," 1970.

Performer files for 1957-1969 were originally arranged alphabetically; files for 1969-1970, chronologically. This arrangement has been maintained. The remaining materials in the series are arranged chronologically by material type.

Series 3. Promotional Materials, 1892-2012 (2.6 cubic feet). Items in this series include programs, 1899-1981; performance schedules, 1892-2012; miscellaneous schedule materials (flyers and brochures, schedule cards, posters, DVDs), 1928-2008; and miscellaneous promotional materials (announcements, booklets, correspondence and memorandums, event brochures, newsletters, newspaper articles and clippings, and order cards), 1896-2006. See attached inventory for predominant dates of materials in the series.

Materials in the series are arranged chronologically by material type.
