History of the Department of Agricultural Communications

Today, the Department of Agricultural Communications launches websites, issues news releases, and creates various communication products, such as interactive exhibits, CDs, and DVDs, and other information sources for Purdue University's College of Agriculture. In past years, Agricultural Communications created slides, photographs, and film reels to disseminate information about the college. "One of this department's strengths is communicating about technical subjects and making them accessible to lay audience," then department head Chris W. Sigurdson explained in 2004. "That may be a sixth-grader looking at an exhibit at the state fair or a chemical engineer who's reading a Wall Street Journal article about Purdue research."

Collection Description

Scope

The College of Agriculture, Department of Agricultural Communications, images (1950s-2000s; 15.1 cubic feet) is a collection of visual images created by the Department of Agricultural Communications for Purdue University's College of Agriculture. The collection includes an impressive array of slides dating from the 1960s to 1990s, as well as various 16mm film reels (circa 1950s-1970s), and photographs, film negatives, and contact sheets (circa 1960s to 1980s). Slides form the bulk of the collection. They pertain to a variety of subjects, including Agricultural Communication Service, Agricultural Research Center Farms, Animal Sciences, Pests and Diseases, Cooperative Extension Service, Consumer and Family Sciences, Field Crops, Horticulture Crops, Forestry and Natural Resources, Purdue Campus, and Soil Services.

Materials in this collection are organized into a single series largely arranged chronologically and by document type.

Processing Information

All materials are housed in acid-free manuscript boxes. Many materials have been removed from their original folders and placed in acid-free folders.

Additions

This collection was formed from the consolidation of Agricultural Communication Service images, 1990s, donated by Rebecca Goetz, Agricultural Communication Service, June 16, 2011; with Agricultural Communication films, 1954-1969, donated by Cindy Verhey, Agricultural Communication.

Revision History

Collection identifier updated from UA 14.14 to UA 68 as of February 22, 2017.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE COLLECTION

Box 1 Slides (Category 100), 1960s-1990s
